2 The G.O. of 3.11.26 (M.T.) appears to be a special case adopted for a special purpose and not affected by the general order of 10.6.27 (M.E.).

3 I am also of opinion that the G.O. of 3.11.26 is not affected by the G.O. of 10.6.27. The latter was issued in modification of the G.O.s of 16.5.1921, 28.11.1921 (as modified by Memorandum of 4.9.1922) and 5.12.1923 which laid down general rules regulating recruitment and were issued in the preamble. was not read in the preamble as it would have been if the idea was to abrogate it, or was a modification an exception from the general rule sanctioned for the purpose of securing desirable teachers. This exception has I think to be taken as still in operation till it is expressly abolished

8) The principle underlying the order

3. II 26 seems to be that if is necessary in the interests both of the trained men, and of the High Schools that the former shd be preferred, irrespective of community, to untrained men for employment in High Schools. It is not said that the necessity on which the order was based, has ceased to exist.

9) The principle of the order of 19.1.29 seems to be that though training shd be a ground for preference, other things being equal, in appointing teachers of Primary Schools, yet it should not be made a ground for introducing Brahmin candidates with training into special vacancies reserved for backward communities.

10) The "training" in the two cases is different; and efficiency of teaching is far more essential in a High School than in a Primary School. The question of providing for graduates in Teaching has also to be dealt with.

11) The most equitable course wd perhaps be to retain the rule, but to provide for a larger number of graduates of backward communities taking the B.T. Course.
